With Great Pride . . .

. . . the seniors dedicate the 1967 Century to you, Mr. William Stephens. Although we have only been well-acquainted since our junior year, the impression you have made on us in the classroom and the examples you have set outside of class will be long lasting and will remain with us far into the future. We deeply appreciate all you have done and are thankful for the mark you have left on our lives.

TO THE CLASS OF 1967

Dear Seniors:

Youth has never faced a future with more promise and with greater expectations of a good and full life.

Does this sound strange? Have you heard that the world is a mess, that your parents' generation has failed and is responsible for the hopeless future you face?

Don't you believe it! Your parents successfully endured a lengthy depression and emerged victorious after a terrible world war to bring you into a world that in your life time has achieved amazing progress and prosperity.

It is true that serious problems still exist, but no generation has been free of doubts and hardships. It is for you to meet the challenge in the years ahead to resolve these problems.

We are confident that you will continue to face life with the vitality, enthusiasm, and idealism you have displayed during your school years. Live life to the fullest extent. Remember the importance of people - not things. Have faith in yourselves, your fellow man, and the future of your country.

The faculty and administration have enjoyed your high spirits, interest, and enthusiastic participation in school activities during the past four years. Our wish is that each of you will lead a happy, successful, and rewarding life.

Sincerely,

Frank Hunnes
